

Liferay Performance Management Program

A Roadmap for Long-Term Success

The Liferay Performance Management Program engages your team after launch, to ensure that your project is set up for sustained success.

A global services consultant from Liferay, with expertise in performance testing and tuning, will help your project team deliver a prescriptive roadmap to improve your performance and stability, refine your test scenarios and baseline your performance metrics. Maintain your project with frictionless deployment that brings your instance back in hours, not days. Rest secure with the knowledge that it's going to remain stable, allowing you to deliver better digital experiences without interruptions.

Liferay provides full implementation services under a separate program. For additional details, please contact your account manager.

Performance and Stability

A successful project is measured by more than the first few days after it goes live. Projects need a stable environment that continues to perform for months. The Liferay Performance Management Program helps our customers accomplish this without the heavy lifting and high stress, allowing for long-term stability complemented by high performance levels.
